Police Ask Motorists for Cooperation

SAFETY CHIEF ISSUES ORDERS FOR "COURTESY"

Orange Ticket Being Placed On Cars Parked Contrary To City Laws

McCRADY HANDED LETTER

Department Complimented by Herrmann for Doing "Good Job"

Circleville police, under instructions from K. J. Herrmann, safety director, to William F. McCrady, police chief, have adopted a policy of courtesy to motorists in which citizens will be given the benefit of the doubt in "borderline" traffic cases.

Orange tickets, and not customary red ones, now used by the department to warn motorists who violate the traffic ordinance by parking in restricted zones. "Please Cooperate," the ticket states. "Your automobile is parked over the line designated for the proper parking of an automobile, which is in violation of the parking ordinance. The next time you park your car, please place it between the lines. By so doing, you will help the police officers, make room for the parking of more cars, and perhaps save yourself the embarrassment of paying a fine. You are welcomed to Circleville, but we do ask that you observe traffic regulations and cooperate with the police department in law enforcement."

Regulation Listed
The ticket lists also that two-hour parking is in effect from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. from Monday to Friday, inclusive, holidays excepted. On Saturday the limit is in effect from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Double parking is prohibited at all times. The minimum fine for a traffic or parking violation is $2.

Following is the letter sent to the police chief to instruct officers on the traffic ordinance enforcement.

"It is our desire to create the best possible feeling between the police department and the public, particularly in the matter of traffic enforcement and the following suggestions are made which should be helpful in making this possible.

"The police department has done a splendid job in enforcing traffic regulations and apprehending violators and reserves much commendation.

"Police officers should be courteous at all times with traffic."

Carroll to Serve Life; Daughter in Night Club

Appeal Looms for Dwyer Youth After Jury Finds Former Deputy Guilty of Dr. Littlefield's Murder

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Aug. 13—(UP)—Francis Carroll, former scout master and church worker, will be taken to state prison today to begin a life sentence for a murder to which another man confessed and is serving sentence.

Convicted by a jury of the murder of Dr. James G. Littlefield, he will renew in prison his acquaintance with Paul Dwyer, 19, sweetheart of his daughter, Barbara, 17, who eight months ago pleaded guilty and accepted a life sentence for the Littlefield murder, but, once in prison, accused Carroll.

Whether Dwyer will receive a pardon was problematical. His counsel, E. Walker Abbott, announced that "I'll take care of Paul Dwyer when the proper time comes." This was taken to mean that he would apply for one. Dwyer testified that Carroll so intimidated him that he decided to sacrifice his freedom and confess a murder he did not commit.

Even though Dwyer should petition for a pardon, three weeks must elapse before the governor and council could act upon it. After a 10-day quarantine, Carroll will be permitted to exercise and eat with the other convicts, including Dwyer.

Appeal Unlikely
Asked if there would be an appeal, Defense Counsel Clyde R. Chapman said:

"The defense is without funds and without funds an appeal is difficult."

Carroll retired in his county jail cell last night less than an hour after he was sentenced to "hard labor for the sum of his natural life."

The husky 43-year old former deputy sheriff heard the Oxford county jury's verdict without betraying a trace of emotion, but his wife Ruby, sitting 10 feet away in the packed spectators' section, shook her head in disbelief and dabbed at her eyes with a handkerchief.

But the key figure in the strange drama of murder and incest—Barbara Carroll—was at a movie. While the jury was debating her father's fate, she signed a contract to appear in a New York night club nightly for at least one month for $1,000.

Carroll was sitting in the courtroom, awaiting the verdict. His wife whispered ecstatically to him: "Babe just signed a contract for $1,000 a month in a night club in New York. Isn't that pretty good for a Carroll?"

Carroll chuckled, said it was. He relayed the news to his former colleague, Deputy Sheriff Robert Milton, who was guarding him.

John P. Frey Goes Before House Committee With His Charges

MUCH EVIDENCE CLAIMED

John L. Lewis's Movement Carries Endorsement, He Declares

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13—(UP)—John P. Frey, head of the metal trades department of the American Federation of Labor, charged today that the Committee for Industrial Organization and its chairman, John L. Lewis, had the "heartiest and official endorsement" of the Communist party.

Frey was the chief witness before the house committee investigating Un-American activities as it began its inquiry of Communism in the United States. He told the committee that he would introduce evidence to show that "The Communists are now actively engaged in carrying out their united front and their peoples' front program in this country, in the same manner as they have already done in a number of European countries, Spain and France in particular."

Progress Aided?
He charged that the Communist party had been unable to make any "real progress in the United States" prior to the formation of the C. I. O. but that "since then (inception of the C. I. O.), the Communist party has become a definite factor in the American labor movement."

He promised that before concluding his testimony—expected to last two or three days—he would present documentary evidence showing that:

"Numbers of prominent Communists secured key positions in the C. I. O. and were placed on that organization's payroll."

"The Industrial and political program of the C. I. O. has the hearty endorsement of the Communist party."

"The C. I. O. and its chairman, Mr. John L. Lewis, have been officially endorsed."

"Mr. John L. Lewis has had a thorough knowledge of the danger to the United Mine Workers (headed by Lewis) and to the American labor movement."

SURFACE TREATMENT OF TWO HIGHWAYS STARTS

Surface treatment of Routes 56 and 180 was started Friday by T. D. Van Camp & Sons, Columbus.

Route 56 will be surface treated from Circleville to Laurelville. The improvement of Route 180 from Route 56 to Adelphi covers about one mile.

The state highway department announced that the work will be done under traffic and no detours will be necessary. It will require about a week for completion.

"Dink", Morris Gall's Turtle, Wins Playground Derby

"Dink", a diminutive land turtle owned by Morris Gall, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Gall, Seyfert avenue, carried off the major prize—a badminton game set—at the Corwin street playground, Friday afternoon, when it glided across the finish line two seconds ahead of Lloyd Brintlinger's "Equipoise".

Gene Geib's "Fighting Fox" was third, two seconds back of "Equipoise". The turtle derby attracted a large crowd of children, who enjoy the playgrounds, and a handful of other interested persons, who enjoyed the contest. Judges were James Gatrell, Tom Brunner and Robert Terhune.

11 Missing On Plane In Mexico

Two Americans Listed as Passengers; Six British Fliers Lost

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 13—(UP)—Rescue airplanes from Mexico City and Vera Cruz searched the coastal area today for an airplane which disappeared yesterday with eight passengers and a crew of three on a 225 mile flight from Villa Hermosa to Vera Cruz.

It was believed that two of the passengers, listed as Luis Graham and Eugene M. Carlson, were Americans.

The missing plane left Villa Hermosa at 11:25 a. m. yesterday. It reported at 12:05 p. m. that all was well. At 12:18 it radioed that it was flying through a rain storm at an altitude of 11,000 feet. It was calculated that the plane was then about 30 miles West of Puerto Mexico and 100 miles from Vera Cruz. There was no more word of it.

Planes Search Area
Planes sent yesterday to search for it returned without news. The plane is a regular airliner operated by the Mexican Aviation company which is a Mexican corporation affiliated with Pan-American airway.

The passengers were listed as Julio Mora, Jacoba P. De Cruz, Sara Tinoco, Graham, Manuel Avalos, Delilia Becarra, Antonio Bravo and Carlson.

The crew: Pilot Jorge Castro, Co-Pilot Jose Luis Castillo, Radio Operator Gerardo Delatorre.

FELIXSTOWE, England, Aug. 13—(UP)—Six fliers were believed to have been killed today when a Royal Air Force seaplane crashed into the sea three miles off shore.

GANGSTERS KILL NINTH VICTIM IN SIX WEEKS

CHICAGO, Aug. 13 — (UP)—Police sent special squads through Chicago's underworld today to question associates of Joseph La Porte, 27, slain last night in gangland's usual style. He was the ninth victim of gang vengeance in Chicago within six weeks.

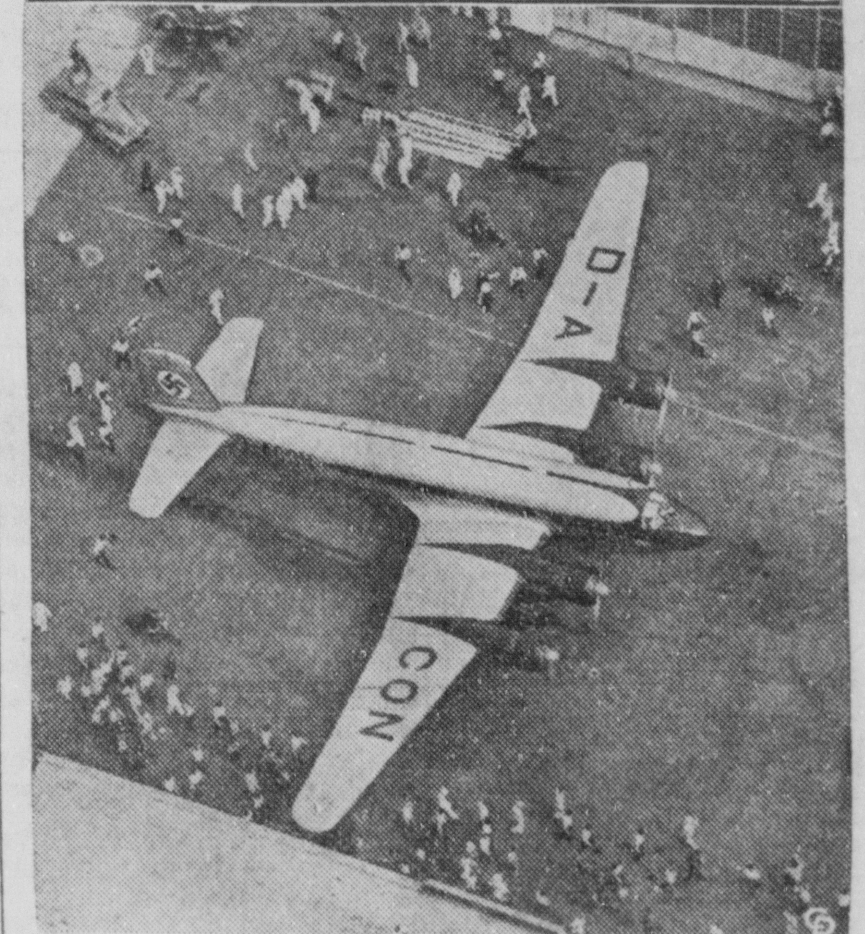

His murder was accomplished with the precision of professional killers. Three men drove him into an alley and stood him up before a wall under an elevated line. They gave their work the expert touch by waiting calmly until an "L" train thundered by, then, as La Porte pleaded for his life, pumped five bullets into his head. They drove out through the same alley and sped away.

La Porte had a lengthy police record, principally involving questioning about larceny cases. He was a candidate for state representative last Spring but withdrew before the primary.

including softshells, leatherbacks, snappers, redeyes and fantails, participated but only a few of them were interested enough to even try for the prizes. Most of the bigger turtles were content to remain in the center of a big ring while the tiny entrants made their way to the edges of the circle.

A large tub was placed over the turtles and a moment after 4 o'clock it was lifted by Walden Reichelderfer, W. P. A. playground supervisor. All the turtles remained stationary for about 30 seconds before "Dink" started his move. "Equipoise" challenged the leader in the stretch and almost

Brandenburg and Crew of Four Takeoff From Floyd Bennett Field for Nonstop Journey; 20-Hour Trip Planned

NEW YORK, Aug. 13—(UP)—The German land monoplane Brandenburg took off from Floyd Bennett field at 8:02:50 a. m. today for a non-stop flight to Berlin over the Atlantic Great Circle route.

Capt. Alfred Henke, commander of the crew, said he expected to reach Berlin in 20 hours if there was a tailwind. Berlin is 3,950 miles away. The Brandenburg landed here Thursday afternoon, completing a non-stop westward flight from Berlin in 24 hours and 58 minutes against the prevailing East winds.

One hundred policemen were on hand to control the small crowd that saw the take-off.

Although it was an experimental flight, in connection with the German Lufthansa firm's plans for regular flying boat service across the Atlantic, the Brandenburg is a land plane. It would sink immediately if forced down at sea, and when the fliers pass the coast of Newfoundland they will see no more land until they reach Europe. The Brandenburg has a normal capacity of 26 passengers, but most of the seats have been removed to make room for fuel tanks.

Capt. Henke and his companions, Capt. Rudolf Von Moreau, co-pilot; Paul Dierberg, flight engineer; and Walter Kober, radio operator, avoided any celebrations that might have been theirs for having made one of the few westward Atlantic flights in a land plane. They spent yesterday attending to private affairs and strolling streets that twice in the last few weeks had been strewn with ticker tape and lined with thousands of cheerers for other ocean fliers—Howard Hughes and his round-the-world plane crew, and Douglas Corrigan.

SON OF LONDON MAYOR WOUNDED BY RIFLE SHOT

COLUMBUS, Aug. 13—(UP)—Richard Robinson, Jr., 21, son of the mayor of London, O., was in serious condition in a hospital here today with a gunshot wound in his chest. Dr. Wilgus Holman of London said the youth was shot in the chest by a .22 caliber rifle bullet, which went through his body.

F. E. Robinson, Richard's uncle, said details of the shooting were not clear but that it was believed that he shot himself accidentally while cleaning the rifle.

RUMORS CAUSE CZECHS, OTHERS TO FEAR CRISIS

German Troops to Mass on Frontier to Demonstrate Great Strength

BRITS FOR CONCESSIONS

Relations Strained Between France and Italy Over Aid to Spaniards

BY UNITED PRESS
Europe today worked itself into a first-class "psychological" war fever.

The sudden relapse from a period of recovery was largely due to speculation and rumor. But fundamentally it involved disturbing developments in the Czechoslovakian minority crisis, the Spanish civil war and the still threatening frontier conflict between Soviet Russia and Japan.

Pressure—in the big league manner—is just beginning on the Czechs. Germany, demanding that Czechoslovakia come into the Nazi orbit, is putting probably a million men under arms this month for military maneuvers coincident with negotiations at Prague on the minority quarrel.

Vast frontier areas of the Reich have been closed as military zones. Food in German stores dwindled as huge amounts were collected for the maneuvers. And this demonstration occurs just across the frontier of the threatened Czechs.

British Apply Pressure

Nor does pressure come from the Reich alone. Great Britain, pressing France into line, has sought to postpone a showdown but has left no doubt that she expects great Czech concessions to Germany.

Whether Britain would accept destruction of the little republic in all but name to meet the Nazi demands remained undisclosed, but Czechs have increasingly feared such an attempt.

France, principal ally of Czechoslovakia, is caught in the most thorny maze of the cumbersome peace structure she has perforce joined Britain in building, has

F. D. PREPARES FOR RADIO TALK ON SOCIAL ACT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13—(UP)—President Roosevelt prepared today a radio address in observance of the third anniversary of the Social Security act.

He will speak for 15 minutes over a nation-wide network Monday night at 9:30. Although the subject of the address was not announced, great significance was attached to the fact that it will follow by but four days his "purge" of two southern anti-New Deal Democratic senators.

It was indicated privately, however, that his remarks would be non-political; that he probably would urge cooperation with the objectives of the Social Security act—keystone of his reform program and elaborate his views on spreading the wealth of those at the bottom of the economic ladder and on providing more security for those unable to care for themselves.

CAIN'S MARKET, PURINA FEEDS IN 8-8 CONTEST

Speedy Softball Outfits
Battle Through Seven
Torrid Frames

Purina Feeds and South Bloomfield Cain Market ball players engaged in one of the most hard-fought contests of the season Friday evening, but failed to settle their differences when darkness ended play at the end of the seventh inning. The score was deadlocked 8-8.

A game played between the teams two weeks ago ended 9-7 for the Cains, but a protest resulted in the game being ordered played over.

The Purinas took a long lead over the Bloomfield boys in the early innings, but couldn't hold it, the invaders scoring six runs in the fifth frame on three walks, Chuck Young's mighty triple to the road in left field, a single and two doubles.

The feed team had a chance to gain victory in its half of the seventh only to have the contest end with the bases filled. Ward sped to third base when his popper into short center eluded three fielders. No one was out at the time. Ansel Roof, hurling for the Cains, got Norpeth on an infield pop before he walked Cupp. Chuck Wilson, Cain catcher, took Walker's pop foul and Buskirk walked to fill the paths. Ray Anderson was sent to the plate to bat for Hines. He missed three swings to end the fray.

Kline Bangs Homer

The crowd was kept on its toes the whole way with thrill after thrill taking place. The big blow of the ball game was Timmy Kline's home run down the right field line with two mates on base in the fourth session. Bill Reese, Cain fielder, was hurt when he ran against the fence trying to make the catch. Don Nance, reliable Cain shortstop, was not in the game because of an ankle injury. The game will have to be played over at a later date.

BUCK WALTERS TOO FAST FOR CARDINAL CREW

CINCINNATI, Aug. 13—(UP)—"Bucky" Walters today had recovered from a month-long seizure of wildness and the Cincinnati Reds remained in the thick of the tight battle for second place in the National league standing.

Walters, who lost several hard-luck games immediately after joining the Reds, had been of little use to Cincinnati during the past month because of an extremely wild spell. However, he was back in old time form here last night as he gained a 3 to 2 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals.

A crowd of 22,576 fans saw the fifth night game of the home season.

Walters was nipped for nine hits, but the Cards were not able to capitalize fully on them. The Cincinnati right-hander had per-

Young Chicago Pro Goes 225 Holes In Single Day

HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 13—(UP)—Charles Grant, 23-year-old professional at Lake Hills Country club, started out to tie J. Smith Ferebee's golfathon record of 144 holes and when he finished there was so much light left he kept right on—for 225 holes.

The young pro, who mixes golf and amateur hockey, started at 4:30 a. m. yesterday and completed 144 holes at 1:08 p. m. He kept on going and finally wound up at 7:15 p. m., after 12½ rounds, averaging 77 strokes each on the hilly, par 35 course.

Grant started with a bet at stake, too. He had $100 wagered he could beat Ferebee's mark—with all rounds 85 or better. His friends wagered $2,000 more among themselves.

Here's his card: 77, 74, 78, 76, 71, 79, 75, 79, 79, 80, 79, 76 and for the last nine holes, 40. At the end of 144 holes, his physician Dr. J. W. Schlesinger, checked him over and reported he was in excellent condition, his "blood pressure the same as on an examination three days ago."

So Grant kept on going. Only Three Pounds Lost
He ate nothing all day, drinking only lemonade charged with glucose. He wore down six caddies and most of his gallery. At the end of 225 holes, he reported he had lost only three pounds, dropping his weight to 134. He was tired, but his feet and hands were in good condition. He had a small blister on his right foot, but not enough to prevent him from planning to go back again today for 18 holes more.

He was a little disappointed he went over par on all but one round. "If my putter had been working," he said, "I'd have parred the course all the way around. I guess I was in too much of a hurry."

DODGERS TAKE ON SOX HURLER, FREE CHAMBERS

NEW YORK, Aug. 12—(UP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers today announced that Pitcher Lee Rogers had been obtained from the Boston Red Sox in a straight cash deal. The amount was not disclosed.

Rogers had been used only as a relief pitcher by the Sox this year, winning one and losing one in 13 appearances. Last year with the Little Rock Travelers of the Southern Association, he won 13 and lost eight.

The Dodgers also announced they were optioning Pitcher Johnny Chambers to Minneapolis of the American association.

BILL LEE HURLS SPLENDID GAME TO WIN 9 TO 3

Giants Gain First Ground Since July 15; Yankees Continue Pace

CHICAGO, Aug. 13—(UP)—vital question in the National league today is "How tired are those Pittsburgh Pirates?"

Since July 12, the Bucs have been bounding along in the first place with no let up in the nervous strain of setting the pace in a tight campaign. They admit they're tired and Chicago's Cubs, snatching at one last chance to make a comeback, put more dark circles under their eyes yesterday by hammering a full game off their league lead with a 16-hit attack and 9 to 3 victory.

It left Pittsburgh 5½ games ahead of the New York Giants and 6½ ahead of the Cubs.

One defeat isn't a rout, but the Cubs countered today with their expensive pennant investment, Dizzy Dean, in the hope Pittsburgh might start cracking under pressure as August leaders have been doing right on schedule for three straight years.

Bill Lee won the series opener by scoring his first victory of the eastern tour, giving up seven hits as the Cubs were mowing down Jim Tobin and Mace Brown. A homer by Stan Hack, second of the season for the mild-mannered third baseman, and three hits by Augie Galan, injured left-fielder, led the drive.

Gumbert in Form
Harry Gumbert, pitching three-hit ball, gave the Giants their first dent in Pittsburgh's lead since July 15, defeating Philadelphia, 1 to 0. Seven times since then New York lost every time Pittsburgh did.

Cincinnati moved up within seven games of the leader by outlasting St. Louis in a night game at Cincinnati, 3 to 2, while Boston moved back into fifth place with a typical 2 to 1 victory over Brooklyn. The Bees got only six hits, one a home run by Elbie Fletcher, but it was plenty of margin for old Jim Turner who won his 10th of the year.

In the American league, Cleveland lost a chance to pick up ground on the New York Yankees by splitting a double header with the White Sox as the Yanks were doing the same with Philadelphia.

The Indians won the opener in the 10th inning on Hal Trosky's triple with two men on, 12 to 9, but lost the second 6 to 5. Bob Johnson's home run in the ninth beat the Yanks in their first game, 5 to 4. The second was a rout—16 to 3—in which George Selkirk hit two homers and drove in eight runs.

Washington minus pitcher Wes Ferrell who was released earlier in the day and went shopping "for a job in the National league," worked over four Boston pitchers and whipped the Red Sox 13 to 1. Emil (Dutch) Leonard, the rookie, scored his 11th victory of the year on seven hits.

INDIANS UNABLE TO GAIN THOUGH NEW YORK LOSES

CHICAGO, Aug. 13—(UP)—If the loyal followers of the Cleveland Indians retained any pennant hopes after the recent disastrous series with the pace-setting New York Yankees they had been jolted rudely today.

Coming here after losing a twin bill to the cellar-dwelling St. Louis Browns, the Tribe was able to gain only an even break in a double-header with the sixth-place Chicago White Sox. Cleveland won the first game 12 to 9 in 10 innings and lost the second 6 to 5.

In the split with the White Sox yesterday it became increasingly apparent that Manager Oscar Vitt does not have a pitching staff strong enough to overhaul the Yanks. Facing a string of nine double-headers in 19 days the Indian pilot must necessarily call frequently on his second string mound men and they simply do not measure up to major league standards.

Denny Galehouse proved this once again in yesterday's nightcap. The White Sox pounded him for 14 hits and took full advantage of five bases on balls which he issued.

PATRICK YOUTHS WIN FIGHTS AT HELFRICH PARK

Homer and Dempsey Patrick, Wayne township milt swingers, won their bouts Thursday evening at the Helfrich ball park from Art Shipley of Cincinnati and Silas Phillips of Williamsport, respectively.

Homer, fighting a much older and more experienced boxer, won in a fast six-round encounter. He was given the unanimous decision of two judges and referee Tut Jackson. Patrick said the fight was his first as a professional. He has been engaging in amateur fights for the last several years.

Dempsey Patrick won by a technical knockout, the bout being stopped in the middle of the fourth round.

In other fights on the card Herbie Gilmore of Cincinnati and Pat Patterson of Louisville went to a six-round draw and Tom Brown, Cincinnati, and Frank Lockwood, Terre Haute, went to an eight round draw.

LAFFOON LEADS IN CONTEST FOR GOLFING PURSE

OAKWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, CLEVELAND, Aug. 13—(UP)—Husky Ky Laffoon, Chicago professional and part Cherokee Indian, led the field into the third round of the $10,000 Cleveland Open golf tournament today.

Laffoon held a 139, two strokes under Bill Burke, a Cleveland, and 1931 open champion, and Tony Penna, who works for a Dayton, O., golf manufacturer, who had 141's for the first 36 holes.

Stroking sub-par golf most of the way, Laffoon added a 69 yesterday to his first day's 70 for his swift total.

YESTERDAY'S HERO—Harry Gumbert, New York Giants pitcher, who held Philadelphia to three hits enabling the Giants to gain on Pittsburgh for the first time since July 15.

OAKWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, CLEVELAND, Aug. 13—(UP)—Husky Ky Laffoon, Chicago professional and part Cherokee Indian, led the field into the third round of the $10,000 Cleveland Open golf tournament today.

Laffoon held a 139, two strokes under Bill Burke, a Cleveland, and 1931 open champion, and Tony Penna, who works for a Dayton, O., golf manufacturer, who had 141's for the first 36 holes.

Stroking sub-par golf most of the way, Laffoon added a 69 yesterday to his first day's 70 for his swift total.

Washington minus pitcher Wes Ferrell who was released earlier in the day and went shopping "for a job in the National league," worked over four Boston pitchers and whipped the Red Sox 13 to 1.

Emil (Dutch) Leonard, the rookie, scored his 11th victory of the year on seven hits.

Cleveland won the first game 12 to 9 in 10 innings and lost the second 6 to 5.

In the split with the White Sox yesterday it became increasingly apparent that Manager Oscar Vitt does not have a pitching staff strong enough to overhaul the Yanks.

Facing a string of nine double-headers in 19 days the Indian pilot must necessarily call frequently on his second string mound men and they simply do not measure up to major league standards.

Denny Galehouse proved this once again in yesterday's nightcap. The White Sox pounded him for 14 hits and took full advantage of five bases on balls which he issued.

Since July 12, the Bucs have been bounding along in the first place with no let up in the nervous strain of setting the pace in a tight campaign.

They admit they're tired and Chicago's Cubs, snatching at one last chance to make a comeback, put more dark circles under their eyes yesterday by hammering a full game off their league lead with a 16-hit attack and 9 to 3 victory.

It left Pittsburgh 5½ games ahead of the New York Giants and 6½ ahead of the Cubs.

One defeat isn't a rout, but the Cubs countered today with their expensive pennant investment, Dizzy Dean, in the hope Pittsburgh might start cracking under pressure as August leaders have been doing right on schedule for three straight years.

Bill Lee won the series opener by scoring his first victory of the eastern tour, giving up seven hits as the Cubs were mowing down Jim Tobin and Mace Brown.

A homer by Stan Hack, second of the season for the mild-mannered third baseman, and three hits by Augie Galan, injured left-fielder, led the drive.

Gumbert in Form

Harry Gumbert, pitching three-hit ball, gave the Giants their first dent in Pittsburgh's lead since July 15, defeating Philadelphia, 1 to 0.

Seven times since then New York lost every time Pittsburgh did.

Cincinnati moved up within seven games of the leader by outlasting St. Louis in a night game at Cincinnati, 3 to 2, while Boston moved back into fifth place with a typical 2 to 1 victory over Brooklyn.

The Bees got only six hits, one a home run by Elbie Fletcher, but it was plenty of margin for old Jim Turner who won his 10th of the year.

In the American league, Cleveland lost a chance to pick up ground on the New York Yankees by splitting a double header with the White Sox as the Yanks were doing the same with Philadelphia.

The Indians won the opener in the 10th inning on Hal Trosky's triple with two men on, 12 to 9, but lost the second 6 to 5.

Bob Johnson's home run in the ninth beat the Yanks in their first game, 5 to 4.

The second was a rout—16 to 3—in which George Selkirk hit two homers and drove in eight runs.

Washington minus pitcher Wes Ferrell who was released earlier in the day and went shopping "for a job in the National league," worked over four Boston pitchers and whipped the Red Sox 13 to 1.

Emil (Dutch) Leonard, the rookie, scored his 11th victory of the year on seven hits.

Cleveland won the first game 12 to 9 in 10 innings and lost the second 6 to 5.

ANNUAL CAMP MEETING OF CHURCHES IN CHRIST OPENS AUGUST 17

REQUESTS FOR LODGING SHOW RECORD CROWD

Many Improvements Made at Mount of Praise Since Last Session

Circleville will be host to thousands of persons from throughout Ohio and nearby states, Aug. 17 to 28, when the 20th annual camp-meeting of the Churches of Christ in Christian Union of Ohio will be held on the Mount of Praise, E. Ohio street.

Requests for rooms, trailer and camping space this year has far exceeded demands for other years. Officials believe the crowds will be the largest in the history of the campgrounds.

The camp session will be officially opened Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. First sessions of the camp-meeting are those of the church council. They continue through Saturday. Two business sessions for pastor, delegates and interested church workers are held daily at 7:30 a. m. and 2 p. m. Religious sessions are held at 6:30 and 10:30 a. m., 6:30 and 7:30 p. m. Both the council and religious sessions are open to all interested persons. Matters of importance to the church are discussed in the business meetings.

Many Improvements Noted
Visitors to the Mount of Praise this year will find extensive improvements have been made, some being rushed to completion for the camp period.

Twenty years ago a tabernacle 60 by 80 feet was erected after a field was cleared of a crop of oats. There was one other building, 22 by 70 feet, used as a dining room. An open furnace was constructed and meals were cooked with wood. Visitors lived in tents. Today the former tabernacle is used as a restaurant and is inadequate. Plans for next year's improvements include an entire new restaurant, elaborately equipped.

The original building used for a restaurant is now a dormitory. There are 25 cottages on the grounds at the present time, eight large dormitories, two for men, two for women and four for family groups, a young people's tabernacle and the central tabernacle. One new building erected this year at the northeast corner of the grounds is a family-group dormitory of 44 rooms. It is of two-story construction, 112 by 20 feet. This building was erected by funds obtained from young people and rooms furnished by various church groups.

An addition 48 feet long was added to the end of the central tabernacle this year making it 146 by 100 feet. This additional space increases the seating capacity from 2,000 to 3,000 persons. In addition the sides of the building can be opened and persons seated on the outside. The amplification system was enlarged and improved. Provisions on the enlarged platform in the tabernacle were made for a large orchestra.

In recent years the churches have purchased additional land in the rear and to the West of the grounds until the institution now extends to Clinton street. A huge space for parking has been provided in the rear. Erection of the new dormitory in the front of the grounds closed the road formerly used as an entrance. Autos will be brought into the grounds from Clinton street. New roadways have been graded and lights installed along the road. The old traction line sub-station at the extreme West side of the grounds will be converted into a dormitory next year.

In spite of the additional dormitory, officials believe the demand for rooms will exceed the space available this year. Evangelists for this year's session will be the Revs. T. M. Anderson of Westport, Ky., E. H. Stillman of Ohioan, and Charles L. Slater, Pasadena, Cal. The Revs. Anderson and Slater are veterans of the campmeetings. This will be the second camp for the Rev. Stillman.

Special music this year will include male quartets from God's Bible school Cincinnati, Cleveland Bible college, and the Greenville, Ill. Bible school. One special session will be an anniversary program.

The camp, serving 85 churches, is under the direction of the Revs. E. A. Keaton, Chillicothe, moderator of the council and secretary of the camp committee; O. L. Ferguson, Circleville, treasurer, and A. E. Sager, Columbus chairman. Campmeeting programs are conducted in an undenominational manner. All interested persons are invited to attend the meetings.

Temperance and Character

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Proverbs 4:10-23; I Thes. 5:6-8.

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

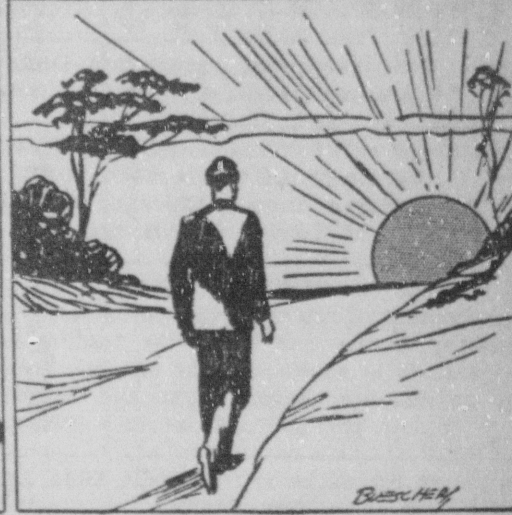

King Solomon wrote many proverbs for the guidance of youth in wholesome living and the building of good character. "Enter not into the path of the wicked, and walk not in the way of evil men."

He warned against intemperance and those that "eat the bread of wickedness and drink the wine of violence. . . . My son, keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life."

St. Paul, a thousand years after Solomon wrote to the Thessalonians: "Let us watch and be sober. . . . Let us, since we are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love."

Both Solomon and Paul likened intemperance to a way of darkness. "But the path of the righteous is as the dawning light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day."
(GOLDEN TEXT—Proverbs 20:1.)

Proverbs 20:1—"Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise."

Church Briefs

The Rev. T. C. Harper, pastor of the United Brethren church, will preach Sunday morning on "The Call of Abraham." His evening sermon topic is "The Proving of Abraham."

W. Robert Palmer, minister of the Church of Christ, will preach Sunday morning on "Serving the World." The evening sermon topic has not been announced. Services of the church are held in the Modern Woodman hall.

Fall and Winter activities will be planned at a meeting of the Christian Endeavor of the United Brethren church at 6:30 p. m. Sunday.

"Prison House," and "A Cake Not Turned," will be the sermon subjects of the Rev. V. E. McCoy in the Church of the Nazarene at the morning and evening services, respectively, Sunday.

The Rev. F. G. Strickland, pastor of Five Points Christian church, will preach Sunday at 10:30 a. m. on "Pure Religion and Undefiled."

Evening services in the United Brethren church will be resumed this Sunday. Special music will be furnished by a girls' quartet, comprised of Ruth Gard, Rose Mary Huffer, Maxine Betz and Ruth Noggle.

TRUSTEES HOPE TO COMPLETE REPAIR WORK

Board of trustees of the First Presbyterian church plan to complete decorations of the auditorium sometime next week. Worship services will be held in the upstairs room one week from this Sunday. The ceiling is in ivory and the side walls in rose tan. The lighter colors enhance the beauty of the windows.

Repairs are being made also on the entire first floor of the church. The heating system is being rebuilt by the Haswell Furnace Co. Many minor repairs have been made. The congregation is looking forward to a busy Fall and Winter program.

The pastor, the Rev. Robert T. Kelsey, will hold the worship service in the social rooms of the church this Sunday. Last Sunday's services were held there and all seats were taken. The pastor's theme will be "Beyond Man." The Sunday school will meet at 9:30 a. m., followed by the worship hour at 10:30 a. m.

Relation of Temperance to Character

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for August 14 is Proverbs 4:10-23; I Text being Proverbs 20:1. "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL
THE WISE MAN, in our Golden Text, likens strong drink to a raging giant, by his deception leading foolish people to their destruction.

Two Paths

Speaking as a father to his son, Solomon passes on the sound counsel his own father, King David, had given to him, pointing out to him two possible paths of life for him to follow, one wise and safe, the other foolish and destructive: "Hear, O my son, and receive my sayings; and the years of thy life shall be many. I have taught thee in the way of wisdom; I have led thee in paths of uprightness. When thou goest thy steps shall not be straightened; and if thou runnest, thou shalt not stumble. Take fast hold for instruction; let her not go: Keep her for she is thy life." Why should not parents take sufficient interest in their children to give such counsel on right ways of living? Are we so dumb as not to realize that it is far more important we leave great children to carry on our business after us than that we leave a great business for them to carry on? Why leave the character building of our children to agencies outside the home—Sunday school, public school, Scouts and the like? None can give this instruction so early, so frequently so appropriately or so effectively as those who alone are entitled to preface the instruction with those intimate terms, "My son," "My daughter." We are in special need of highway markers, if the way we travel is to us. Life is like that to youth. Therefore, those who have traveled the way should give helpful guidance to those to whom the way is new and untraveled.

Warning Signs

"Enter not into the path of the wicked, and walk not in the way of evil men. Avoid it, pass not by it; turn from it and pass on. For they sleep not, except they be doing evil; and their sleep is taken away, unless they cause some to fall. For they eat the bread of wickedness, and drink the wine of violence." Street walkers, panders and prostitutes infest our streets to accost our youth, and lead them to debauchery, disease and death. Why should parents join a conspiracy of silence regarding the moral hazards of our highways and erect no warning signs concerning the deadly perils of drunkenness, adultery, gambling and the like? By radio, billboard and magazine advertisements our youth are enticed to indulge in the use of intoxicants as never before. It is the more necessary that by precept and example they be taught in the home the perils of what this lesson calls "drinking the wine of violence."

The Safe Road

The safe road is commended thus: "The path of the righteous is as the dawning light, that shineth more and more unto the perfect day. The way of the wicked is as darkness; they know not at what they stumble. My son, attend to my words. . . . Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life." The same counsel to self-discipline that Solomon gave was repeated a thousand years later by St. Paul saying, "Let us watch and be sober. . . . They that are drunken are drunken in the night. But let us, since we are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for a helmet, the hope of salvation."

The meeting came to a close at 10. The next will be at the Farm Bureau in November.

Outstanding 4-H Boys And Girls Await Big Meeting

Pickaway county will be sending some of its outstanding 4-H club members to the twenty-fourth annual Club Congress, at Ohio State university, Sept. 18 to 23, when about 450 boys and girls get an intensive course in study and play.

The youngsters will be from 15 to 20 years old and the week's program has been built to help them decide on their future activities. They will be divided into groups with adult leaders to help each group discuss what application can be made of the information given by speakers.

Registration, campus tours, and organizations of the groups will occupy Sunday until 8 p. m. Then H. C. Ramsower, director of the extension service, will preside over an assembly which will have group singing under the leadership of Professor Joseph Leeder, and will hear a group of songs by Mrs. J. H. Boyd, Columbus. Rev. Roy Burkhardt, Columbus, will speak. E. L. Bowman, Ohio State Employment Service, starts the Congress off Monday morning with a talk on choosing careers. L. L. Rummell, Ohio Retail Merchants Association is the evening speaker and will tell of beauty spots in Ohio. Miss Edna Callahan, Ohio State University, puts in a word for good appearance Tuesday morning and the WOSU players present the show, Behind the Mike, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Gerlaugh Heard
Friendship at home and abroad will be the topic of Mrs. Mary E. Gerlaugh, Ohio State, Wednesday at 9 a. m. In the evening, honors will be divided between the Capital University accordion band under the leadership of Prof. Earl K. Smith; and Col. Lynn Black, Ohio Highway Patrol, who will talk about the relation between brains and brakes. Dr. Edgar Dale, Ohio State University, is the Thursday morning speaker; and Prof. C. C. Weideman, Ohio State University, enlivens the evening with his talk and demonstration of homemade musical instruments.

Guest speakers at the luncheons and dinners will be Walter Kirk, master, Ohio State Grange; Perry Green, president, Ohio Farm Bureau; E. N. Dietrich, state director of education; B. P. Sandies, manager, Ohio Junior Fair; Delmar Starkey, secretary, Columbus Chamber of Commerce; and Ralph Howard, supervisor, vocational agriculture training. A daily period of folk game leadership will be directed by R. Bruce Tom, Ohio State. Group inspection of some of the University departments will be organized by W. W. Brownfield, supervisor of extension agents. The social hours in the Gymnasium each evening, conclude Thursday under the direction of Billy Foster's Yellow Jackets.

Dr. A. B. Graham, Columbus, talks to a group of club leaders the first three days on various problems that arise in guiding club boys and girls. Dr. Graham was one of the pioneers in organizing rural boys' clubs before there were any 4-H clubs and has a long record in extension work at Ohio State and in Washington.

SHUTTING HERSELF IN

GERMAN military policy continues to look, to disinterested outsiders, strange, unwise and dangerous to Germany herself. This is particularly true of the huge and costly defense program by which Germany is said to be constructing fortifications, steel and concrete walls, underground airdromes and supply bases, and so on, around all her borders, including even her frontage on the North and Baltic Seas.

This frenzied activity, which seems so menacing to her neighbors, is naturally compared with the "iron lung" which the imperial German government accused the Allies of building around it at the time of the World War. As an American commentator observes, "the strait-jacket they smashed through then was partly imaginary; now it is replaced by a real one, self-constructed."

While Nazi Germany professes to be shutting out an aggressive world bent on her destruction, she is actually shutting herself in from a world which, with wiser leadership in Berlin, would probably grant her more concessions peaceably than she can win by fighting.

It isn't only by military fortifications, either, that Nazi Germany is isolating herself. She does so likewise with her diplomatic, commercial and racial policies.

A PRINCE'S EDUCATION

PRINCE FUMITAKA KONOYE, son of the Premier of Japan, is not exactly a prodigal son, although he flunked all his majors at Princeton University last year. He told reporters in this country before he went home that his father "might be very angry." After all, when a young man is sent thousands of miles and to a foreign land to obtain an education, he isn't meeting his responsibilities very well when he shirks the formal schooling in favor of the social life.

The premier seems not to have been angry, however. He has made the young man his official secretary and daily gives every appearance of enjoying his son's breezy ways and his American clothes and expressions.

Perhaps, after all, young KonoYE was not expected to concentrate on scholarship but to learn western manners and ways of thinking. Japan needs accurate reporters of American opinion.

Mussolini says Italy is pure Aryan and Jay Franklin says it's a human chowder, and they can't both be right.

Dictatorship in this country is still pretty well confined to mother and teacher.

PAGES from the Diary of an Antiquated Reporter:

Up to a truly pleasant morning after a night in which only a remarkably active conscience could have kept one awake. To the post and then the plant, hardly more than arriving before Dan McClain dropped in to check my physical fitness against the Rotary-Kiwanis ball game scheduled for Monday evening at the Country Club. Dan, I knew was a Kiwanis spy, but I told him the truth just the same. I have let down some since the last game I played, which was about twelve years ago. And even then I was none too good.

Met Gerald Hanley on the street and arranged for the packing of a lunch to be carried along on the way to first base in the event the miracle should happen and I get a hit. Those Kiwanians think they will have an easy time of it, forgetting, apparently, that we are to name the umpire. If I don't get at least two walks Bill Radcliff may expect really tough sledding in obtaining publicity for his election campaign.

To make matters worse someone had the more or less bright idea that the wives of contestants should be invited out for the fracas. Probably afraid there would be no cheering section otherwise. But I think the idea is not so good. Just how could a wife have any respect for a husband after he plays ball like I know those Rotarians are bound to play. Probably that will be a hissing section rather than a cheering section. Those wives need not know much about baseball to realize that as ball players we are great swivel chair decorators.

Met Walt Nelson and he commented on the rain Wednesday night. "I didn't hear it," Walt said, "but it must have been a regular downpour, for it washed the Davey stickers off every automobile in the county." Personally, I think the best man won and he will make Ohio a fine governor. However, I was

BRASS RING TO TOM DEWEY

NEW YORK — Thomas E. Dewey, the young man who came to Manhattan to be an opera singer and stayed to chase out crime, probably has greater political potentialities than any other youngster in the United States.

He is about to drive a gigantic spike into the coffin of Tammany Hall. He has New York Democrats more worried than at any time in years. He probably can be Governor of New York, and if this takes place, he is not a bad bet as Republican nominee for the White House in 1940.

Tom Dewey is now on the crest of the wave, but waves in New York are just as unsteady as out beyond the harbor, and unless his popularity is taken at full tide, young Tom may get caught in the undertow.

For Dewey has fought crime with crime. In one case he imprisoned over 100 witnesses, denying them the right to consult counsel. He also has denied the right of defense counsel to talk with witnesses, even in his presence. And his latest tactic of letting Dixie Davis out of jail in order to visit his Broadway sweetheart brought a reprimand from the bench, and would have brought storms of protest against a less popular man than Tom Dewey.

Young Tom, however, has all but one judge in New York afraid of him. He can almost wrap them around his little finger.

POLITICS AND CRIME

The one exception is Judge Ferdinand Pecora, former Senate investigator into the banking scandals. Pecora, one of the fairest judges in New York, obviously has been irked at the political flavor which Dewey has injected into the Jimmy Hines case.

Charged by Dewey with conspiracy to operate a lottery, Hines is one of the key figures in Tammany, and his conviction would come near to bringing the collapse of the Wigwam. Obviously Tom Dewey is not unaware of that fact. Obviously, also, Dewey is not unaware that Hines has been a staunch and effective supporter of Roosevelt, is reported to have contributed heavily to New Deal campaign funds.

The Hines connection comes about through New York Supreme Court Judge Sam Rosenman, original member of Roosevelt's Brain Trust, and before then known as Jimmy Hines' young legal protege.

TOO POLITICAL?

So Dewey, a staunch Republican, has got a big political kick out of the Hines trial, and at one time Judge Pecora thought he was getting too political. This was when Dewey asked Pecora for a bench warrant for Hines' arrest. Pecora declined, said that to issue a bench warrant without a grand jury investigation first was highly unusual.

So Dewey telephoned Judge Philip McCook, a Republican and father of one of Dewey's young investigators. McCook consented to return to New York on the excuse that a relative was sick, signed the bench warrant, and Jimmy Hines was arrested before he had any inkling of what it was all about.

of the opinion that Martin was a sure fire primary victor.

Frequently we complain about the slow rate of progress by mankind. This week I listened to a talk by Dr. Herbert Martin and my tune has changed somewhat. Men, he declared, needed 300,000 years to discover fire. It was 200,000 years after he discovered fire before he invented the bow and arrow. A total of 50,000 additional years passed by before he domesticated plants and animals, his greatest achievement. Dr. Martin declared that man is a slow mover mentally. I hope he is not so slow that he will require 50,000 years to get out of his slump. Really I would like to see prosperity again. Not that I profited so greatly when the delightful lady was here before, but most everyone else did and all were much happier.

DIET AND HEALTH

Glaucoma, Most Insidious Eye Disease

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
OF THE EYE conditions which impair sight in middle age, glaucoma is the most insidious and for that reason, if no other, the most dangerous. It is not as common as cataract, but not as easy to recognize either for the doctor or patient.

The eyeball is a tough sac which would collapse if it were not filled and kept round by a fluid which is abstracted from the blood. This fluid is transparent and not only makes sight possible, but carries nourishment to parts of the eye which have no circulation of their own, and then flows off through a physiological filter or valve. This automatically regulates the hardness or tension of the eyeball. In glaucoma the filter or valve fails to work, the fluid is retained inside the eyeball, raising the pressure. In the course of time, this increased pressure injures the delicate internal eye structures, with loss of vision proportionate to the amount of pressure and the promptness of treatment.

This tension may be suddenly increased, resulting in acute glaucoma. The symptoms of this are so severe and prostrating that they evidently call for immediate medical examination, and relief usually can be obtained before damage is done. The symptoms are pain, headache, the appearance of rainbows around light, and a terrifying reduction in vision.

Chronic Form Gradual
The chronic form is far commoner and is so gradual and insidious in its onset that much damage may occur before an oculist can be consulted. The pressure usually affects those portions of the retina where peripheral vision is centered. So that the first symptoms may be gradual diminution of vision on the outside rim of the visual field. The center of vision may be quite clear but the edges dim. Other visual changes are the occurrence of rings of color, rainbow-like around objects, particularly bright objects—lights and mirrors.

These patients are often unfortunately told that they have a beginning cataract, and are advised by some neighbor to sit down until it ripens. Thus valuable time is lost, when they should be under the treatment of an oculist.

The purpose of the recitation of symptoms is not to frighten anyone or cause undue preoccupation with the vision, but to emphasize the desirability, especially after the age of 40, of regular checkups by your oculist.

CHAPTER 37

AT THE Garwood home the door was opened by Hichens, who greeted Noel with his usual stiff impassivity, and at once showed her to her room. It was on the third floor back, furnished in maple, with delicate lace curtains, a blue oval rug and several comfortable looking chairs. The room opened into a neat bath.

Here was luxury indeed, Noel thought, as she unpacked her few belongings. A few minutes after, she was ready to go down the short flight of stairs to the second floor where Hichens waited to show her to the room of the little girl who was to be in her charge.

The room which she now entered was large, furnished as a sitting room in heavy upholstered furniture. It opened into a small bedroom.

Sitting in a chair was a pale little girl with fair hair and blue eyes, who gazed at Noel without interest and then leaned back in her chair and closed her eyes listlessly.

Noel thought she had never seen a more unhappy looking child. Her sympathy was instantly aroused as it had been on the day when she had glimpsed this child from the upstairs window.

Hichens withdrew stiffly. Noel went over and took one of the child's pale little hands. "Hello, Betsy, dear," she said softly.

The child murmured a word of greeting and again dropped her eyes, the long curling lashes making little hollows on her thin delicate face. Then she withdrew her hand from Noel's and turned her face away.

Noel took a seat beside her and waited a few moments, hoping the child would look at her again. Then at last Noel said, "Do you like to play games, Betsy?"

The little girl opened her eyes then, looking at Noel in surprise. "Oh, no!" she said with emphasis. "But wouldn't you like to?" Noel insisted.

Betsy shook her head. "It would be noisy."

Noel felt at a disadvantage. After all, she knew nothing of children and would have to be guided by her instincts. If she had acted on her first impulse, she would have taken the frail little girl and held her close in her arms, for there was something about her pale face that went straight to the heart. But Noel felt that was probably not the best way, remembering how firmly Betsy had withdrawn her hand.

So Noel said lightly, "One can play lots of games without making noise." She wracked her brain to think of a game of this kind. And then said with triumph, "Checkers, for instance."

But Betsy's expression remained blank. Was it possible she knew nothing of checkers? Had no one felt it their duty to amuse her? It seemed to Noel, even though she was ignorant of child psychology, that what this little creature needed most was to have her young mind stimulated. Listlessness in a child of this age was far from being natural.

Noel decided to try for another vantage point. "Which of your studies do you like best?" she asked.

Noel had already noticed that there were no toys to be seen, not even a doll. If the child possessed any, they were evidently put away. In one corner of the room there was a small desk on which a number of books were piled. Noel went over, selected one, which happened to be an arithmetic. Then glancing up from the book, she saw a slight shudder come over Betsy's little body. Noel put the book down.

She saw a look of relief come into the child's eyes. "I can't do sums," she said plaintively. "They make my head ache. I can't learn anything," she finished, sudden tears gathering in her eyes.

"Here, this won't do," Noel said tenderly. The next thing she was following her first instinct and was holding the little girl in her arms. "Of course you can learn," she told her soothingly.

Betsy seemed surprised and embarrassed. A flush came into her face, and she tried to pull away. Noel waited a few moments, then she released her. Lifting her in her strong young arms, she placed her back in the big over-stuffed chair and walked to the window. She could see that she would have to use a word of tact with this child. She was evidently shy, even afraid of people for some reason.

A passionate desire rose up in Noel's heart to help her. It was plain enough that Betsy was seriously neglected.

After standing at the window thinking for a few moments, Noel decided not to attempt to use any text books. She would give Betsy a test to find out how far she had gotten in arithmetic and make it appear more or less a game.

She went to the door and called Hichens. When the butler appeared with surprising quickness, she asked him to bring her a dozen oranges, a basket of cherries and some apples.

Noel thought in such a house as this that the larder would be well filled. She was right. Hichens had gone away, a look of disapproval on his face. But a few minutes later a Japanese servant came up with the fruit.

He was followed a short while afterward by Hichens who told Noel that Mrs. Garwood wished to see her at once in her boudoir. Except that Hichens pronounced it "boudoir."

When Noel knocked on Mrs. Garwood's door, and was told to come in, Hichens was there, adjusting the silk curtains. Mrs. Garwood evidently had just awakened. A silver breakfast tray rested on a small table beside the chaise longue on which the woman was half-sitting, half-reclining, wearing as before an elaborate negligee of chiffon and lace. Her right arm was bound in tape and hung in a sling from her shoulder.

"I—er, broke my arm," Mrs. Garwood said rather abruptly. "Oh, I'm sorry," Noel began, but the woman wasn't paying Noel any attention. She was looking at the butler. "Hichens, look in the—my desk and bring me my check book. I'm going to have—"

She stopped and, turning to Noel, inquired, "What is your name? Can't remember?"

Noel told her. "All right, Noel," she resumed, "I'm going to ask you to make out a check for me. Bills have to be paid even though I've got my right hand in a splint. Make it for a thousand."

Noel took the check book Hichens handed her, and wrote out a check for the amount of a thousand dollars. Then she was instructed to sign the name Fay Garwood. She looked up at the woman in surprise. "But my signature—I mean—will it be accepted?"

Mrs. Garwood gave a shrug and an angry light came into her trusting eyes. "I do not see why I've got to—why I should make explanations to my servants. Do as you're told."

Noel still hesitated. Hichens moved up then and said suavely, "You understand, of course that—er—Mrs. Garwood will phone the bank and explain why someone else made out the check."

Noel made no further objections. She signed the woman's name and rose. "Now as to Betsy," Mrs. Garwood began, "she is a very bad child. Stubborn. What she needs is discipline."

"Oh, no, Mrs. Garwood," Noel exclaimed impulsively. "What she needs mostly is fresh air and to be amused. After that, her studies."

"I don't give you this job to tell me what my child needs," Fay Garwood exclaimed shrilly. "You do as you're told, do you hear?"

Noel stood there meeting the woman's angry eyes without wavering. And there must have been something about her clear cool gaze, or else it was a discreet little admonitory cough from the butler. Anyway, Fay Garwood unexpectedly apologized. "You can see that my poor nerves are simply ruined," she said with a half sob. "Betsy is just an—ignoramus. She has to be forced to—put her mind on her studies. And we wouldn't dare risk any excitement for her, because you see—the doctors, they say she's a mental case. Now maybe you understand."

For Saturday, August 13
THE PLANETARY auspices for this day are entirely subtle and intriguing, with much bewilderment and guesswork as to just what might happen. Mysterious, crafty, illicit, captivating and nefarious events loom. These call for much circumspection, with sound advice from an elder, but change seems probable, possibly a journey on a curious errand.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of highly-uncertain, peculiar and subtle influences, with intrigue, secrecy, subterfuge or the mysterious, shaping the affairs. Travel in such behind-the-scenes interests is probable, but be most discreet, relying on the sound advice or co-operation of a trusted elder.

A child born on this day may make a name for itself in some highly-mysterious or singular career, as it may be fond of the unique, hidden, peculiar. It may be highly imaginative and emotional.

If This Is Your Birthday
Those whose birthday it is may have a year in which a great deal depends on their own good sense in hazzarding or investing their funds, as there are possibilities of loss through speculation gambling, the chicanery of strange persons or tricky propositions. Guard against social indulgences and extravagances in the wrong places.

A child born on this day may have a rather friendly nature. People may take advantage of it, but it may be roused to quarrels and vindictiveness when it realizes its "easiness". Its early training should be toward stability.

Presby-Weds Gather At Price Home For Dinner

Steak Fry to Be Held On Sept. 8

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Price were host and hostess to the Presby-Weds of the Presbyterian church Friday evening at their home in Jackson township.

Eighteen were present to enjoy a cooperative dinner, the guests bringing covered dishes and sandwiches and the hosts supplying fried chicken for all.

Enjoying the outing were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw, of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Watt, Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Weldon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Crites, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Kelsey, Miss Margie Hunsicker, Miss Kathryn Bockart, Miss Virginia Marion Ted Steele and Mr. and Mrs. Price.

Presby-Weds will have a steak fry Friday, Sept. 9, at Gold Cliff park.

Kingston Girl Winner

Miss Marjorie Dresbach, of Kingston, is Ross county's healthiest girl, selected at the annual Ross county 4-H picnic held Thursday at the county fairgrounds in Chillicothe.

Health Commissioner R. E. Bower, who examined representatives of all county 4-H groups, chose Miss Dresbach, fifteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dresbach, of Kingston, rural route 2, and Bernard Bigler, son of Mrs. Helen Bigler of the Huntington pike, as the county's healthiest pair.

Sorosis Club to Meet

Mrs. George Schein will be hostess to the Sorosis club of Williamsport, at her home near Williamsport, Monday evening.

Gochenour-Hill Families

August 21 has been selected as the day for the Gochenour and Hill reunion which will be held at Mrs. Leah Dewey's grove on the Goosepond pike.

Elephant Reigns

The "White Elephant" reigned Friday evening at the meeting of the Washington grange in Washington township school.

Curious members arrived at the white elephant party scheduled for 8 p. m. with only a slight idea of the creature's true form.

However, after two preliminaries, a white elephant spelling contest, the object of which was to spell the greatest number of words using the letters in the title, and a peanut-feeding game in which human representatives of the species were fed the nuts, the crowd became better acquainted with the subject.

Then the well-wrapped elephants themselves were brought forth, exchanged and opened, and the guests enjoyed many and varied surprises.

At the close of the evening arranged by Mrs. M. M. Bowman, worthy lecturer, the grange planned its next meeting which is to be a group meeting at the Washington school, Friday, Aug. 26, with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huston in charge of the program.

Mrs. N. J. Trego Honored

Mrs. N. J. Trego was pleasantly surprised Thursday evening when 27 of her friends gathered unexpectedly at her home in Williamsport to celebrate her birthday anniversary.

The celebrants arrived at eight bearing many lovely gifts for Mrs. Trego.

After the presents were opened, ice cream, cake, fruit punch, and small dishes of mints appeared from nowhere and were passed around.

Garden flowers in fragrant bouquets, previously unseen by Mrs. Trego, were discovered.

Present for the enjoyable event Miss Frances Hill, Mrs. G. P.

Miss Marilyn Lutz took prizes in two contests, one for street guessing and the other in a card game.

Concluding the evening's entertainment, Miss Paul and Miss Thornton served a light supper.

Included in the guest list were the Misses Betty Sapp, Margaret Boggs, Joanne Conyers, Medreth Bach, Eleanor McDill, Betty Cooper, Mary Ruth Owens, Mary Helen May, Pat Bennett, Mary Fickardt and Marilyn Lutz.

Merry Makers' Meet

Approximately thirty were present Friday afternoon when members of the Merry Makers' club and their families picnicked at Gold Cliff park.

Before a six o'clock supper a number of the group enjoyed a cooling dip in the swimming pool while others joined in conversation and preparation of the food.

At the invitation of Miss Marie Hamilton the club planned to assemble Friday afternoon, August 26, at 4 o'clock for a garden party at Miss Hamilton's home on W. High street. After a business session Mrs. E. S. Shane and Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, as assisting hostesses, and Miss Hamilton will serve supper.

Sewing Club Meets

Mrs. Blenn Bales was hostess to her sewing club Friday afternoon at her home in W. Main street.

Among the twelve present were Mrs. H. F. Lowstuter, Washington D. C., who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Rebecca Orr, Pinckney street.

County Grangers to Meet

Next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock the County Grange group program will be presented at Commercial Point.

Saltcreek Valley grange will offer the program with the Scioto grange acting as hosts at the Commercial Point school.

strength) on the remaining soil area. Naphthalene flakes can be worked into the soil about nearby plants as an added precaution against the disease. While the flakes will not destroy the disease they do serve to prevent it.

If large dahlia flowers are desired, the lateral buds should be removed and only one terminal flower bud saved on each stalk.

Flowers for the house are best cut in the early morning while they are still fresh from the night's coolness. Take a pail of water with you and immerse the ends of their stems immediately.

There'll be a hot time in the ol' town THIS WEEK!

Many people will suffer unnecessarily from heat this week. They will fuss and fret and fan themselves as they scurry from counter to counter and store to store, looking for something.

Save steps, these hot days. Sit down in the shade of a cool porch. Glance through the advertisements in the newspaper. Find what you want before you go to buy it.

That's what advertisements are for. You can trust the advertisers to tell you about bargains in the ads. You can save money and minutes and many a headache if you read the advertisements—and HEED them.

BETTY LOU GERSON

Betty Lou Gerson, one of radio's most talented and most lovely leading ladies, has been named for the title role in "Arnold Grimm's Daughter," popular dramatic serial, heard Monday through Friday over the National Broadcasting Company networks.

A charming southern girl who chose to make her own way in dramatics, Miss Gerson rose from the ranks of radio players to stardom opposite Don Ameche within four months after making her debut over NBC in June, 1934. Since that time she has been one of the most popular stars on the networks.

In addition to starring as leading lady to Ameche in the "First Nighter" dramas, she won continued popularity as leading lady of "Grand Hotel," playing opposite Don's younger brother, Jim Ameche, last season, and is currently co-starring with him in the popular "Win Your Lady" series, heard in Tyrone Power's former network spot this summer. She has also been heard in featured roles in "Attorney At Law," "The Story of Mary Marlin," "Lights Out," "Immortal Dramas," "Talkie Picture Time" and numerous other network productions.

Melons Begin To Ripen In Ashville Community

By S. D. FRIDLEY
Ashville, Phone 79

Muskmelons are beginning to ripen at Frank Grice's big patch down at the Cromley bridge, and as long as the waters of Walnut creek stay within banks, the melons and Frank will come along fine, but if they don't, Frank will lose a hard season's work and no small financial loss.

Now that the nominations are made for candidates of both the major political parties, the heat will soon be turned on by our Supreme Court at headquarters. The sessions will be more frequent and the pressure tougher and harder to hear day by day. Candidate-for-governor Bricker's talk over radio Monday evening, will call for a special court session at an early hour Tuesday when the case will be submitted for argument.

Richard Peters, our civil engineer with contractors Burgess and Niple with the firm he has been for the last three years, is now at work for them at West Union, Adams county, where a water-works system is to be installed. Theatres

AT THE CLIFTONA

Seven new songs, destined for the hit class, will be heard for the first time Sunday, when "Doctor Rhythm," Bing Crosby's new comedy with Beatrice Lillie, Mary Carlisle, Andy Devine, Rufe Davis and other noted players, opens at the Cliftona Theatre.

Four of these will be sung by Bing himself, while the fifth will be played by Louis Armstrong and his orchestra. In addition there will be two numbers introduced by Miss Lillie.

Bing will sing "My Heart is Taking Lessons," "On the Sentimental Side," "This is My Night to Dream" and "Only a Gypsy Knows" all from the pens of the song writing team of James V. Monaco and John Burke. The title song, "Doctor Rhythm," also written by Monaco and Burke, is played by Louis Armstrong and his orchestra, with characteristic hot licks on the cornet by Armstrong.

Miss Lillie, who makes her first screen appearance in seven years in "Doctor Rhythm," and who is regarded as one of musical comedy's greatest comediennes, sings two novelty numbers in the characteristic Lillie manner. These are "Zing, Zing, Go the Tambourines," also by Monaco and Burke, which she sings with a Gypsy chorus of over one hundred men and women, and "There's Rhythm in My Heart," which was especially written for her by Lorenz Hart and Richard Rogers. Miss Lillie also sings "Only a Gypsy Knows" with Crosby.

AT THE GRAND

While preparing for his role in "In Old Chicago" at 20th Century-Fox, Tyrone Power secured a number of volumes on the 1857-1871 period with which the picture deals. The bookseller also enclosed a more ancient volume which he thought Tyrone might find of personal interest.

It was a summary of the plays and casts of the Kilkenny Theatre in Ireland of the first years of the 19th century. One of the leading players of this theatre was Richard Power, whom Tyrone discovered to be his great-great grandfather. Richard Power, Tyrone discovered, was the father of Tyrone Power I, born in 1795, who became a prominent figure of the Irish, English and American stage. It was the first Tyrone Power to whom the present Tyrone Power III had heretofore traced his theatrical ancestry.

Tyrone, Alice Faye and Don Ameche share the leading roles in 20th Century-Fox' triumph, "In Old Chicago," which opens Sunday at the Grand Theatre.

LONDON QUIET AS EUROPEAN NATIONS WORRY

German Maneuvers to Open Monday Cause Much Concern

HALIFAX IS KEY MAN

Runciman to be Buffer Between Czechs and German Minority

LONDON, Aug. 13—(UP)—A curiously excited international atmosphere which on its surface could mean only that Europe was in imminent fear of a general war, left London calm today.

There seemed to be a premonition, reflected in huge gold purchases and strengthening of the American dollar, that there might be a crisis at any hour.

The atmosphere was based almost entirely on German army maneuvers which are to start Monday. It has been estimated in various capitals that Germany during the month would have up to 1,000,000 men under arms. In government quarters or among the public here. Stories in London newspapers told of acute worry in France. But United Press dispatches from Paris spoke of acute worry in London and there seemed to be none.

Viscount Halifax, who as foreign secretary would be the key man in any troubled situation, has resumed his vacation in Yorkshire. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, about recovered from an attack of catarrh, hoped to go to his country estate, Chertsey, today or tomorrow. Other government officials were taking vacations undisturbed.

People Hopeful

The man in the street, too, seemed to have no thoughts of war. Vacation resorts were crowded and gay. Thousands of additional people are leaving for vacations daily. Business and life are normal and the fact is that, among people generally, the foreign situation is regarded as more hopeful than it had been for months.

One reason is the presence in Prague of Viscount Runciman, sent as "adviser" in the minorities dispute—to be a buffer between the Czechoslovak government and its German minority. He also serves as a reminder to all interested parties that Great Britain is taking a hand in the Czechoslovak minorities situation solely in the interest of peace. A crisis, now, just when minorities negotiations are starting, would involve Britain directly and intimately.

Foreign office spokesmen say that they are not alarmed by the German maneuvers. The foreign office has received reports of them.

As for the maneuvers themselves, they were described in detail in a dispatch sent by the United Press Berlin office July 25. This dispatch gave most of the details which are now causing excitement. It said that reservists were joining the colors, that large numbers of army engineers were supervising construction of Rhine-land fortifications by laborers, including laborers drafted under a recent government decree, that some sources estimated that the total of men under arms would reach 1,000,000.

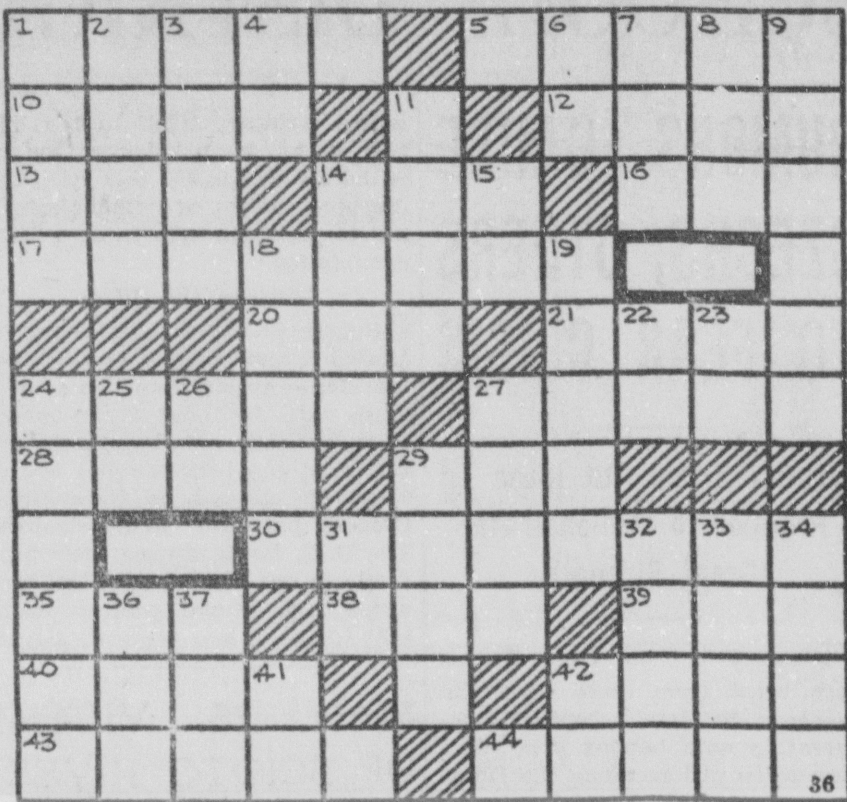

No Massing Expected However, it was said also that the usual "grand" maneuvers were not being held—that there would be no massing of troops in one body.

AT THE CLIFTONA

BING Crosby is a crooning physician who masquerades as a policeman only to lose his heart on his first assignment in "Doctor Rhythm," the new musical comedy, which opens Sunday for a four day run at the Cliftona Theatre. Pearl-blonde Mary Carlisle is his romantic interest, while Beatrice Lillie is also cast.

HOCKING BOARD PLANS DATE FOR PUBLIC HEARING

Three of Five Members Approve Tri-County Building Program

Petitions bearing 602 signatures out of 750 voters in the Laurelville-Perry school district, asking transfer of the district to Pickaway county for creation of the first tri-county high school district in Ohio, were submitted to the Hocking county board Friday night.

The petitions were presented in a special meeting of the board by Dr. C. T. Grattidge, president of the Laurelville-Perry school board. Members of the county board took no action last Friday night when Dr. Grattidge had only 65 percent of the voters' names on the petitions but agreed to meet in special session when more than the necessary 75 percent of the voters' signatures were obtained.

Next step in the program will be a public hearing on the transfer, a formality in the procedure. Three of the five members of the board favor the transfer while one has not announced his stand. Homer Hedges, a member of near Laurelville, opposes the transfer.

The proposed consolidation will join the Laurelville-Perry district with Adelphi, Ross county, and Saltcreek township, Pickaway county.

A new high school would be erected at Routes 56 and 180 in Saltcreek township with P. W. A. providing 45 percent of the cost. Estimated cost on the building is $150,000.

If the consolidation is effected, a bond issue would be submitted to voters of the new district.

No official action has been taken by the Ross county board on petitions signed by over 90 percent of the Adelphi residents.

TEAMS FOR 4-H COMPETITION TO BE PICKED SOON

Tryouts for the selection of county 4-H club teams to participate in the Ohio State Junior Fair will not be held Aug. 17 as originally scheduled.

The teams will be selected the latter part of next week or the early part of the following week, club officials said. Some difficulty has been experienced in locating judges for the tryouts.

Pickaway county will send two girls to the state style revue contest. Demonstration teams will be sent from clothing and food clubs, a boys' club and there will be a livestock judging team.

BEXLEY AUTOIST ASKS $3,359 FOR WRECK INJURIES

Fred B. Paisley, 145 Ashbourne road, Bexley, filed suit for $3,359.16 damages in Common Pleas court Saturday against George and John Reid, Laurelville Route 2.

The suit is based on an auto wreck last Jan. 8 on Route 23, near South Bloomfield. Mr. Paisley's petition states that he was riding in his auto driven by his wife, when it was involved in a collision with a truck operated by George Reid.

He asks $2,500 for personal injuries, $55.16 for his medical expenses, $104 for medical expenses for his wife, and $700 for damage to his car.

CITY INDUSTRY PLANS DISPLAYS OF PRODUCTS

George Griffith, president of the Retail Merchants Association, is completing arrangements for window displays of products manufactured in Circleville for the sales event to be conducted in connection with the annual Mount of Praise campmeeting session opening Aug. 17.

Mr. Griffith said that about 10 industries have made arrangements to prepare displays. They will be placed in downtown store windows to show visitors the products manufactured here.

The window displays are to be prepared by Tuesday and not later than Wednesday, Mr. Griffith said.

HEIRESSSES TO BRITAIN'S THRONE GO IN BARE FEET

GLAMIS CASTLE, ANGUS, Scotland, Aug. 13—(UP)—The heiress presumptive to the throne of Great Britain and her little sister went bare-footed today. It was the first time they ever had been permitted to do so.

Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose arrived from Balmoral castle with their mother, Queen Elizabeth. It was their first holiday here since the death of their maternal grandmother, the Countess of Strathmore.

Unlike ordinary children, the young princesses were obliged to continue their studies during the summer vacation. Elizabeth is studying botany.

Princess Margaret Rose, who was born at Glamis castle, may celebrate her eighth birthday here on August 21.

fic violators and never use "hard-boiled" tactics. "Courtesy should be one of the fundamentals of the police without effecting its efficiency for it is just as easy to be courteous as 'hard-boiled'." In this way criticism against the police department can be eliminated.

"It is not our desire to change the policy of enforcing traffic regulations but citizens should be given the benefit of the doubt in 'borderline' cases of traffic violations. Every effort should be made to correct the traffic situation without creating the ill feeling of the citizens.

"We must remember that police officers are working for the public and should have personal judgement when making arrests for most offenders are not habitual criminals, but are good citizens.

"Please see that all officers are informed of these suggestions and every effort on your part shall be made to put them into effect."

MERCURY FALLS TO 65 DEGREES IN EARLY MORN

Circleville residents dug out more bedcovers Friday night when the temperature dropped to 65 degrees, lowest recording of the Summer. The low temperatures at night have been ranging in the seventies.

Although the highest recording Friday was 83 degrees, the state weather bureau predicts the scorching temperatures of earlier in the week may return. Fair skies and rising temperatures were predicted for Saturday. There is a possibility of rain Sunday.

Dr. H. D. Clarke, weather recorder, said the Scioto river came up a foot Friday to a stage of slightly more than five feet at the W. Main street bridge. Normal stage for the stream at the bridge is four feet.

HOOKS REPLACES MARANVILLE AS BOSS OF ROYALS

MONTREAL, Aug. 13—(UP)—Alex Hooks, first-baseman of the Montreal Royals took over management of the International league club today, replacing Walter J. (Rabbit) Maranville, who resigned unexpectedly.

Maranville resigned last night after the Royals had split a doubleheader with the Jersey City Giants. No reason was given, but it was believed Maranville's action was taken at the management's request. The Royals are in seventh place. Last year, Maranville's first as manager, they finished second.

Maranville joined the Boston Braves as a shortstop in 1912 where he remained until he was sold to Pittsburgh in 1921. He played with the Pirates four years, then with Chicago, Brooklyn, Rochester and St. Louis before he moved back to the Boston Bees. He retired from active duty in 1935.

Hooks will manage the Royals for the remainder of the season.

CHENEY BLOCK BOUGHT FOR PALM RESTAURANT

The Cheney block, E. Main street, occupied by the Timmons shoe repair shop, has been sold through the Circle Realty Co. to Chris Palm, E. High street. Mr. Palm plans to remove his restaurant, now on N. Court street, to the Cheney building.

GELBERT HELPS TOLEDO SEEKING HIGH POSITION

COLUMBUS, Aug. 13—(UP)—

The courage of a veteran star who wouldn't admit he was "through" today was sparking the drive of the Toledo Mudhens toward a first division berth and a place in the American Association play-off.

The veteran playing the important role in the climb of the Mudhens from a lowly place in the race to within 2 1/2 games of the first division was third baseman Charley Gelbert.

Gelbert hammered out three hits in five trips to the plate last night and drove in three runs as Toledo gained ground by beating the Minneapolis Millers 5 to 4.

Gelbert's third hit of the game, a single, came in the ninth inning to plate the winning runner.

Apparently destined to become one of the greatest shortstops in major league history Gelbert had his career on the "main line" cut short by a hunting accident in which he shot away a part of his heel. Gelbert refused to accept the edict of doctors that he could never play baseball again and now appears to have won his long fight. He has played brilliantly afield and hit timely throughout the season at Toledo.

"Babe" Phelps, big right-hander, hurled the league leading St. Paul Saints to an easy 13 to 1 victory over Columbus. For eight innings Phelps blanked Columbus with one scratchy infield hit, but lost his shutout in the ninth inning when Gene Hasson homered.

Louisville bested Kansas City in both ends of a double-header 3 to 1 and 2 to 1; and Milwaukee edged Indianapolis 10 to 8.

erican Federation of Labor which existed because of Communist activities.

"... Violent industrial disturbances in connection with automobile and the steel strike, were fostered by Communist leaders and members.

"... The Communist party took much credit for organizing the steel and the automobile workers, and in applying a directive part in the strikes which followed."

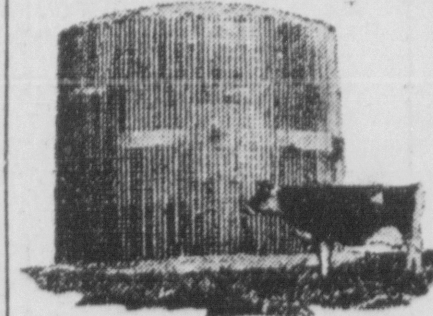

Many Not Communists

Fred added, however, "in all fairness to the majority of the memberships of the C. I. O., that they are not Communists, and that they are opposed to Communism."

He traced the history of Communism, and charged that both the Nazi regime in Germany and the Fascist regime in Italy could be traced to early Communist efforts to infiltrate their doctrines in those nations. The committee heard testimony yesterday by one of its own investigators on Nazi bund activities in this country.

"It was the fear created by the rapid growth of Communism among German workers which gave to Hitler and his associates, the opportunity of claiming their purpose was to save Germany from Communism," Frey said.

RUMORS CAUSE CZECHS, OTHERS TO FEAR CRISIS

been beset from three sides and rendered helpless except in co-operation with London. New German fortifications along the Rhine leave France impotent to rush suddenly to the aid of the Czechs in event they are attacked.

But even more troublesome to Paris at the moment is the Spanish civil war intervention by Italy. In Spain, the government has put off the end of the war indefinitely by a series of surprise counter-attacks. If Loyalists could get needed war supplies to go with their superior man power they might make even greater gains—or at least hold their ground against drives which the reorganized rebels were starting today along the Ebro river front.

May Open Frontiers

France has more or less closed her frontier to Loyalist supplies in conformity with the non-intervention agreement, but the government has been under tremendous pressure to re-open the border on the grounds that Italy continues to send men and supplies to the insurgents. Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy, has been credited with advising the rebels to capture the rich mercury mines in the Alcadia valley toward which they are advancing before accepting the non-intervention pact.

The result has put a severe strain on Franco-Italian relations, resulted today in French action to reinforce counter-espionage facilities, to increase radio and aerial police forces on the Spanish and Italian frontiers. In addition, Paris struck back at restrictions on Italian visitors to France by requiring special visas for Frenchmen to visit Italy—preventing the expected visit of probably 10,000 French citizens to the Feast of Assumption ceremonies in Italy on Monday.

In the Far East developments which directly influenced the European chancelleries continued to cause concern. Shooting of two Japanese by Russian secret police on Sakhalin Island—half owned by Russia and half by Japan—spread the danger of renewed frontier conflict despite quiet along the Changkufeng sector where fighting raged in the last two weeks. Both sides agreed to withdraw troops 250 feet from the disputed line of Changkufeng hill to facilitate efforts of a joint commission.

Marines Use Fists

But in Shanghai, the anger of United States, British and French marines was aroused by a new clash with Japanese army operatives, a dozen of whom were arrested in the international settlement on charges of threatening Chinese patriotic demonstrators. The U. S. Marines used their fists freely in one scuffle with the Japanese and official protests were sent to the Tokyo representatives.

MAN, 25, VICTIM OF SCIOTO RIVER, RELATED HERE

Efforts to locate the body of Edwin H. Matheson, 25, drowned last Monday in the Scioto river at Columbus, have been unsuccessful.

The young man was a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Matheson, Columbus. Mrs. Matheson is the former Beatrice Lowe of Circleville, daughter of the late Joseph Lowe. Mrs. Matheson is a first cousin of Miss Josephine Martley, 140 E. Main street.

Matheson and Clifford Longhore, 31, were drowned when they were drawn into a current while swimming near the Greenlawn avenue dam. One held to a log for five minutes and the other for 30 minutes before they were drawn under by the current. Two policemen tried to reach them with a rescue boat but could make no headway against the current.

BEARD DIVORCE

Louise Viney Beard filed suit in Common Pleas court Saturday against Clarence Beard, 514 S. Pickaway street, asking divorce, restoration of her maiden name and alimony. The petition, charging neglect and cruelty, says they were married in Circleville on Dec. 10, 1934. There are no children.
